

SOREL x Chloé boot, $515, by Chloé at Nordstrom, Westfield Valley Fair and chloe.com

WINTER IS COMING

MOUNTAIN MOVES

Paris by way of the Pacific Northwest—boot brand SOREL has teamed with French maison Chloé to create an all-weather boot that's both utilitarian and chic. Founded within 10 years of each other, the unlikely pair shares an emphasis on classic techniques and a commitment to craftsmanship. Influenced by the concurrent heritage of both brands, the partnership is a lesson in refining a practical staple. Gold accents and a rich layer of shearling bring Parisian panache to SOREL's classic Joan of Arctic boot—balancing the functional rubber-bottomed soles that have become a signature of the brand with a bit of splash. Waterproof suede and an insulated lining mean full protection from the elements, making this the perfect choice for an après-ski tread. —Emily Hannon

BUYING TIME

PERFECT PRESENTS

On the heels of their first Menlo Park outpost, Anthem Home, Janelle and Kirk Loevner have just opened Anthem Gifts on the same downtown stretch. The new shop from the husband and wife—who also have a pair of stores in San Francisco—stocks myriad tabletop and gift items, among them Christofle frames, leather overnight bags, watch winders, desk accessories, William Yeoward barware and cashmere sweaters. The 1,000-square-foot venue also boasts an embroidery machine. “We saw a great need to create a place for customers to find gifts in Menlo Park,” says Janelle. “We also wanted to provide the ability to personalize these gifts to make them unique and special.” Indeed, now you can take your gift-giving to a new level. 883 Santa Cruz Ave., #4, anthemsonline —AL

HOUSE & HOME

DECK THE HALLS

When it comes to getting the house holiday-ready, check that item right off your to-do list by enlisting a professional like Spectrum Interior Design (spectruminteriordesign.com). “We aim to provide our clients ultimate ease and maximum enjoyment,” says founder and principal designer Amy Fischer. Among the Los Altos-based firm’s seasonal services are design, curation, procurement, installation, disassembly and organization of all decorations. Think fresh and reusable greenery, custom mantle designs and tablescapes, whole-home schemes and lighting automation. “We are designing moments of pride when our clients are overjoyed to entertain and show off their home with the magic of the holidays,” Fischer notes. “We are designing warm memories for families when they appreciate being around their holiday tree opening gifts. I love that we are enhancing and elevating lifestyles as a result of our offerings.” Not only are the services available for both the indoor and outdoor areas of a home, but the Spectrum team is now taking on private yachts and corporate offices. So you can inject a festive mood wherever you live, work and play. —AL
